Welcome to the 6th edition of our newsletter! In this issue: newest virus to be aware of, Anti-virus advice, computer deals, and some office news.

Virus Alert: W32.Mimail.C@mm

This virus comes in to your email with the following:
Subject: Re[2]: our private photos [random string of letters]
Attachment: photos.zip

If you see this message come into your computer delete it immediately. The virus is activated when you open this e-mail attachment. It then sends itself to all of the people on your address book. This virus can cause system instability by sending data to the darkprofits domain. It can also release confidential information by capturing text from specific windows and sending the data to predetermined email addresses. In order to protect yourself from this virus please make sure that your virus definitions are put to date and that your Anti-virus software is turned on and working.

Which anti-virus software do we prefer?

We have had many clients ask us which anti-virus software do we recommend, Norton or McAfee. We use and prefer Norton because it seems to run the best while being less intrusive. McAfee seems to make the computer take longer to come back up after it has been shut down, while it checks to see which software you have loaded on your computer. Also, we find that our clients using Norton seem to have fewer virus' than those people using McAfee or PC-Cillin.

In with the New, Out with the Old.

Best Time for a new computer is now. Dell is offering a nice system for $499 with free shipping on all of there computers. Also, if you are tired of waiting on your old printer you can find great deals on color Inkjet printers as well as Laser Printers. You can check out CompUSA or Staples websites to find your perfect printer as cheap as $50 in some cases. Finally if you need a new scanner Epson has a great scanner, the Perfection 1670 USB Photo Scanner for under $130.00. This scanner can scan color or black and white pictures as well as negatives and slides with the built in transparency adapter. If you are considering a new scanner be sure to check for USB 2.0 capability on both the scanner and your PC.

'Tis the season...

Not sure what to get your boss or that co-worker? We may have a perfect idea for you! If any of your friends, family, or co-workers are suffering from computer problems, consider a One Call Gift Certificate. Our gift certificates are designed into very attractive gift cards and are available in any denomination. We carry the standard denominations of $5, $10, $25, and $50, but can provide them in any amount you desire.

Thanks for Your Support

I want to thank you guys for passing our name along when you have the chance. Our customer referrals are very much responsible for our success. I appreciate you having enough confidence in our services to trust us with the needs of your friends and families.
